

Drawing in the ELT Classroom to Explore Social Justice

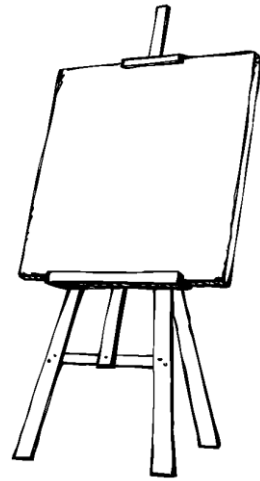

- Visuals and Global Issues
- Introduce practical activities for the learner as springboards for discussion
- How the teacher can use drawing to aid comprehension

VISUAL ARTS

Deeper discussion & engagement

LINGUA FRANCA

Shared language

GLOBAL CITIZENS

Global Issues

Why drawing?

the act of drawing as a means of exploring language leads to a deeper more memorable, and personalised connection

From: Inkscape: el performance del dibujo 2013

Jade Blue 2018

What does a child need to SURVIVE and THRIVE in today's world?

child

Whose responsibility is it to provide these things?

What should the individual contribute to society?

individual

society

What should society provide for the individual?

What happens when the individual doesn't contribute these things to society ?

What happens when society doesn't provide these things for the individual?

teacup

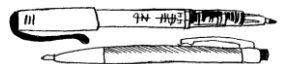

pictogloss

Teacup

by Rebecca Young (Author), Matt Ottley (Illustrator)
Dial Books (4 Oct. 2016)

Where do you think the girl with the broken egg cup has come from?

What might the egg cup symbolise?

Conceptualising Language: Learner Generated Visuals

Friday 13 April 12:05 - 12:50
SYNDICATE 4

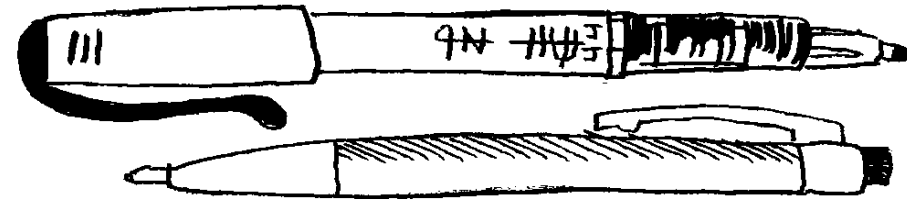

A Chaotic Mind: 2014/06/inside-chaotic-mind.html

Jade Blue 2018

JADE BLUE

jadeblueefl.wordpress.com
jadesdoodles.wordpress.com

