

Arguments FOR and AGAINST

In most countries graffiti is considered a crime	More complicated pieces of graffiti require planning and imagination and contain artistic elements like colour and composition	Grffiti makes an area look run-down
Tagging, the practice of writing your name or handle in prominent or impressive positions, does not have an aesthetic value or appeal	Grffiti is the marking or defacing of another person's property	Grffiti conforms to the definition of art, so it IS art!
Others have to clean it up	It can improve an area aesthetically	Grffiti is an act of communication : it carries an important message a lot of times
It is an act of social interaction : Sometimes it carries a political message trying to cause change	Grffiti can be hazardous to health and a hazard to the environment, too	It can transform an entire neighborhood and make it even a tourist attraction
